- Resident of North San Diego County at time of application
- Currently enrolled or planning to enroll in high school, vocational school, community college, university, or other accredited educational program OR actively engaged in development of career skills through non-traditional experiences.
- Identifies as LGBTQ+

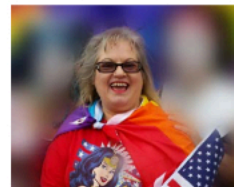

Submissions will be evaluated on the following criteria:

- Completed Application Form
- Application essay (written, audio or video submission)
- Priorities are given to those with financial hardship
- Submitted in the language you are most proficient in

"There is a reason LGBTQI people often refer to one another as family. We are good at creating kinships and we need each other." Linda represented the spirit of community when for the first time our "Little Center that Could" experienced the loss of many of our trans kiddos to suicide. Linda became the mother, the sister and the trusted person to go to for many kids that she loved as her own.
